

European Research Group warns it will vote against UK-EU deal if sovereignty is not preserved

26 November 2020 at 08:13

“ From The Daily Telegraph

European Research Group warns it will vote against UK-EU deal if sovereignty is not preserved \(telegraph.co.uk\)

By Christopher Hope, CHIEF POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

25 November 2020 • 7:11pm

EU President Ursula von der Leyen said on Wednesday that Brussels is looking at "creative ways to seal the deal". But if this "creativity" means that Eurosceptics will view the deal as "BRINO" – ERG code for "Brexit In Name Only" – then the Prime Minister might be seeing more of his young son Wilfred than he currently already does.

"One Eurosceptic source told me: "If a large body of Tory MPs branded it BRINO and voted against the Tory party [then] Boris is toast. They know that and so presumably will avoid it."

It is not just Brexit that is at stake, but conceivably Mr Johnson's entire premiership. After all, remember what happened to Mrs May."

Roger Wright-Morris.

<http://www.briefingsforfreedom.co.uk/>

Begin forwarded message:

From: David Nevett <djnevett@gmail.com>
Date: 26 November 2020 at 04:19:38 GMT
To: Roger Wright-Morris <rogerwm07@gmail.com>
Subject: A clear enough message ?

From The Daily Telegraph

By Christopher Hope, CHIEF POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

25 November 2020 • 7:11pm

EU President Ursula von der Leyen said on Wednesday that Brussels is looking at "creative" ways to seal the deal. But if this "creativity" means that Eurosceptics will view the deal as "BRINO" – ERG code for "Brexit In Name Only" – then the Prime Minister might be seeing more of his young son Wilfred than he currently already does.

"One Eurosceptic source told me: "If a large body of Tory MPs branded it BRINO and voted against the Tory party [then] Boris is toast. They know that and so presumably will avoid it."

It is not just Brexit that is at stake, but conceivably Mr Johnson's entire premiership. After all, remember what happened to Mrs May.